

Creative Memories

Art Therapy Group for Adults with Early Onset Alzheimer's/Memory Loss

Explore personal memories in a safe, relaxing environment at the Morris Museum. View and discuss artwork in the gallery with a Museum Educator, then participate in a related art making experience under the guidance of an Art Therapist. Discover how creative outlets can help you relax and express your feelings.

Archaeus, Ysabel LeMay, Hypercollage, 2015
On exhibition at Morris Museum through December 3.

Week 1: Tuesday, October 3, 2017

1:00-2:30pm

Week 2: Tuesday, October 10, 2017

1:00-2:30pm

Week 3: Tuesday, October 17, 2017

1:00-2:30pm

Morris Museum

6 Normandy Heights Road
Morristown, NJ 07960

FREE: Registration required. To register, call 973-660-3533.

Participants must be able to function independently. Caregivers are welcome to attend the program or choose free admission to the museum during this program's scheduled times.

Caregivers are responsible for transportation.

Alexandra Kay, MA, is an art therapist who works with children and adults in the healthcare setting.

This program is a collaboration between Morris Museum and Atlantic Health System's Healing Arts Program, made possible in part by the Institute of Museum and Library Services.

To Register or For More Information:

Call: 973-660-3533

Email: healingarts@atlanticealth.org

Visit: atlanticealth.org/healingarts

Atlantic
Health System